

All that I've needed.

"All that I've needed, in Kathy, he's provided. Great is his faithfulness".

Everything that I lacked and all that I desired in a wife, the Lord has given me in Kathy. All that I could've hoped for in a companion and in a friend, he has blessed me with in Kathy.

I had waited patiently and quietly for my love to arrive and to heal me. I had longed for my bride to finally come into my life to stay. And now, my visions and dreams have been manifested and realized. Thank you Lord. Selah.

The season of loneliness has come to an end and the time of being alone has ceased. No more loneliness and no more longing for my woman. My time in the valley is over, and my days of longing are gone. And my hopes and aspirations have been restored.

Now, it is time to build again. Now, it is time to grow, again. Now, it is time to love, again. Now, it is time to live this human experience to the fullest. Now, it is time to embrace and to look forward to, Grand parenting, again.

(All that I've needed, your hands have provided). Great is his faithfulness.

I have been energized. I've been emboldened. I've been inspired to be the kind of husband, lover and partner that I was destined to be. Now that I have the woman that compliments me; the woman that is a reflection of God's love for me. I've found my soul mate. I've been

So, what shall I render unto you, Oh Lord. For all your many benefits? How shall I show you my gratitude for what you've done in our lives? And how will I show you thanks, oh merciful one, for restoring my family?

You've given us, 'Beauty for Ashes. Oil for mourning.

I will rise up. I will make an offering unto you. I will give you a sacrifice. I will create a monument to you, to honor you. I will commit my life in service to you. I will serve my wife and family, as a demonstration of my love for you.

I'll make every effort to please my wife. I will try to meet her emotional, spiritual and physical needs, always. I will perform my duties as the priest of our home, always. I will lead my family to you, to your truths and to your mercy. I pledge my eternal commitment to this your daughter. I vow to love her and to care for her; I will cover her. This is my decree. This is my assignment.

This is our time. This is our season. To share our love and to receive all that God has in store for us. For such a time, as this. We walk by faith into our calling and also in our destiny. But with the constant awareness and assuredness of the blessings that he has bestowed upon us, in each other. And in another opportunity to serve our respective family's.

Thank you Kathy, for keeping the faith. Thank you baby, for believing that he would send you your Boaz. Thank you for knowing when to open your heart to love again. Thank you for being you. Thank You for your love. I will cherish it always.

Your husband, and friend. Michael.
