

COFFEE

The Original Cyber Human Wrestle Fest Team Lead

In 1941, iVision Dynamics Corporation developed the original (AACU). Autonomous Artificial Intelligence Combat Unit. A bio electric super cyborg. Her name was Coffee. Coffee was the initial AACU prototype. Her design was purchased by the U.S. Army during WWII, in an effort to aid the allied forces in combating the Nazi regime's soldiers strategy of hiding behind hedge rows in England and in Normandy. The Nazi soldiers would leverage the height and density of the hedge rows as coverage for protection by hiding behind them. The Nazi soldiers would essentially pick off the allied forces soldiers, like sitting ducks in a row. Coffee's high jumping functionality was developed to address the Nazis strategy of hiding behind the hedge rows.

Coffee's superhuman strength was derived from her cosmic Nubian DNA. Which was extracted from the DNA of the ancient Moors of Spain. Her ancient Nubian cosmic DNA, gave Coffee the physical ability and mental acuity to formulate and perform complex attack strategies and evasive maneuvers, intuitively and effectively. She was the perfect war machine. Agile, stealth with super intelligence and relentless on the battle field. Coffee's supernatural mental powers and analytical skills aided her and gave her incredible critical thinking abilities.

These inherent characteristics that were necessary in solving complex battlefield challenges, were a result of her DNA being developed from the strands of the DNA of her ancient cosmic Nubian ancestors. The Moors of Spain.

Coffee's supernatural mental powers and analytical skills aided her and gave her incredible meta physical and critical thinking abilities. These inherent characteristics that were necessary in solving complex battlefield challenges, were a result of her DNA being developed from the strands of the DNA of her ancient cosmic Nubian ancestors. The Moors of Spain.

Coffee's bio electrical anatomical, and systems architecture design was patterned after the physiological characteristics that were extracted from the DNA of the original ancient Moors of Spain. Coffee's ability to perform Naval and aviation navigation was also derived from her ancestors the Moors of Spain. Who were celestial navigators, brilliant mathematicians, scientist, doctors and artisans.

The culmination of these abilities in Coffee, afforded the allied forces the opportunity to gain the upper hand over the Germans. Coffees contribution to the war effort is similar to that of most black's contributions in previous campaign's that the United States has waged. In that, the tide of the war was always changed when blacks were allowed to serve and contribute . The 54th regiment of the civil war, WWI to name a few and now the "Tuskegee Airmen of WWII. Coffees name would be go down in history as one of the greatest combat unit ever.

Now, having been decommissioned after the end of the war in 1945, Coffee has settled into her new role as decorated retired military veteran and as an immortal. However, Coffees leadership and fighting skills were enlisted again and put back to work in the capacity of the team leader of the “Wrestle Fest Team. The Wrestle Fest Team is an intergalactic wrestling team, who are members of the “Intergalactic Wrestling Federation. Traveling galaxy to galaxy hosting intergalactic wrestling matches.
